"Nowadays, when one gets to this office it looks bigger than this:"

Everyone is reaching for the elusive dollar these days and they do not stay long in one place.
If anyone could find an excuse for paying us an odd dollar we could assure them it would continue changing owners rapidly as far as we are concerned, and would be a source of great joy to some pressing creditors we have acquired.

A. B. Caldwell Dies Suddenly

A prominent farmer and long time resident of this district passed away on Friday evening, July 17th, in the person of Alphaus B. Caldwell. Deceased had been around all day in apparently his usual health and had assisted in milking operations in the evening and was taken ill very suddenly, passing away a short time later from heart failure.

Deceased was born in Hammondsburg, Iowa, on Sept. 9th, 1850, and was consequently in his 72nd year. In 1885 he married Miss Hannah Emily Dalbey, residing at Sandvillie and Milo, Iowa, until 1914 when with his family he moved to Champion, purchasing 800 acres of land about two miles north of town, where he was residing at the time of his death. With the exception of winters spent in California of late years Mr. Caldwell was seldom away from his farm, liking Alberta better than any other place. While of a decidedly quiet disposition he still made many friends all of whom he retained. He was one of the most successful farmers of the district and his removal will be the cause of widespread and lasting regret.

He is survived by his widow, a brother in Sandvillie, Iowa; one son, F. A. Caldwell, of Champion; one daughter, Mrs. Fred Starr, of Browning, Montana, and three grandchildren. Funeral service was held in the Community Hall on Sunday afternoon at 3.30, and the remains were shipped to the old Iowa home for interment, accompanied by Mrs. Caldwell, Sr., F. A. Caldwell, and Mrs. Fred Starr. There was a large turnout of old time friends and beautiful tributes of flowers testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held by many friends. Rev. Peter Dawson conducted the service.

U. F. A. Picnic

Wed., July 29

The annual U.F.A. picnic will be held at the Willow Creek grounds, about 10 miles southwest of Stavelo, on Wednesday July 29th. While there will be several kinds of sports there will be no admission to the grounds. Water sports late in the afternoon are expected to be especially attractive and interesting. This has always been a popular picnic and the crowd this year promises to be greater than ever. There will be a big dance in the evening in the open air pavilion with a six-piece orchestra in attendance.

Buff Orpingtons Win Prizes

Local Buff Orpingtons owned by Jack Taylor got quite extensively into the prize winning class at Calgary against the strongest kind of competition. He secured 3rd and 4th prizes for cocks, 3rd and 5th for hens, 3rd for cockerel and 5th for pullet.

Mrs. F. C. Alcock has made a wonderful recovery after a recent operation and was able to leave the hospital the first of the week, being the guest of Vulcan friends for a time. Her many friends will be pleased to hear of her convalescence.

In Big Storm At Regina

The Royal Purple delegates in Regina who patronized the Champlain hotel had an exciting time during the big electric storm which visited the Saskatchewan capital during their stay there. The hotel was struck by bolt of lightning, the elevator put out of commission, plaster fell from the ceilings and walls and water poured down the elevator shaft. Mrs. W. R. McRae was one of the guests who experienced this excitement.

Women's Institute July Meeting

There was a good attendance at the July meeting of the Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. Laiff on Tuesday 14th inst. Mrs. McRae presided in the absence through illness of Mrs. Alcock, president.

An interesting feature of the afternoon's programme was the reading by Mrs. J. N. Beaulieu of Dean Howe's paper "The Old Homestead". In response to a request from Mrs. Alcock all stood for one minute in silent testimony to the late Mrs. L. C. McKinney. Mrs. A. W. Jopling was appointed to act on the flower committee in place of Mrs. Wise, resigned.

Tuesday July 28th was the day decided upon for a picnic to the home of Mrs. A. T. Martin, constituency convener. Members to meet at the church at 1.30 p.m.

A meeting of the fair exhibit committee and any others interested was called for Friday night July 14th at the home of Mrs. O. Harper, convener.

Miss Kathleen Goveall was the winner of the embroidered pillow slips raffled at this meeting, No. 13 being the lucky ticket drawn by Baby Davis.

A very acceptable lunch was served by Mesdames Milfin, Ulrich and U. G. Anderson.

Granlin-Johanson

At the United Church parsonage, Red Deer, Rev. D. Whyte Smith officiating, Miss Mae Rena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Johanson, of Elkville, was married to Mr. Elwood Granlin, of Champion, Alta. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Granlin will make their home at Champion. Best wishes will be extended to them—Red Deer Advocate.

Both the principals in the above interesting event are widely known in this district and congratulations to the newlyweds will be general.

Growing Brighter

A citizen who was seven years in arrears for his home paper, who had never had a good word to say for the editor, and who was always opposed to public improvements, was dying, so the latest story runs. "How do you feel?" asked the editor, who was on hand to write the obituary. "All looks bright before me," gasped the dying man. "I thought so," returned the editor, "you'll see the blaze in about ten minutes."

Miss Isabel Boulton of Nobleford is the guest of Miss Audrey Lucia.

The Ladies Aid meets on Thursday, July 30th, at the home of Mrs. C. McLean.

Seek Fortune In Peace River

Glen Goodnight and Orne Matlock left by wagon for Peace River, Friday July 17th. Prior to their departure a surprise party was held. Wednesday night, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Goodnight in honor of Glen Goodnight and Orne Matlock. The evening was spent playing games and dancing. At the close of the party everyone wished the boys good luck in their future undertaking.

Good Prospects For Livestock

An increasing export trade overseas in livestock, is seen by W. J. McGougan, President of the Winnipeg Livestock Exchange, who, with nine directors of the exchange, have returned from a tour of the west over the Canadian National, for the purpose of making a survey of conditions. Overseas shipments, according to Mr. McGougan, have netted remarkably good prices, so much so that wintered beef cattle are practically sold out. Cattle sales on the Winnipeg market this year shown a 25 per cent increase over the same period of 1930. The hog market has been exceptionally good and the sheep and lamb market has held up well.

Card of Thanks

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The U.F.A. demands freedom of speech and assembly for the unemployed. This would also appear to include complete freedom for advocates of violence. This may be the feeling of the farmers belonging to the United Farmers of Alberta, but it is very doubtful if it is extensive among them. Any employer of labor will avoid the labor lawyer if he possibly can. One mouthy agitator will frequently disrupt a threatening gang or other collection of laborers. If it could be shown that any good was accomplished by permitting the interruption of work by keeping this class around they might be tolerated, but experience has shown emphatically that they are of no use to themselves or anyone else. The leaders who get at the head of the unemployed, usually because of verbal ability, are just as dangerous to the community if allowed to go to any lengths unchecked. Freedom of speech is a fine thing and is enjoyed to a sufficiently great extent in this country. When it is used to promote violence it should be withdrawn.

Change in Wheat Pool Policy

Following a meeting of the delegates of the Alberta wheat pool the board of directors announce a modification of the growers' contract and a new policy of operation effective from July 16, 1931, to the end of the present contract covering the marketing of the crops of 1931 and 1932.

Every pool member will be given the option:

(1) Of delivering his wheat on pool basis, accepting the prevailing initial payment, and participating in any future payments which may accrue from the pooling thereof; or

(2) Of disposing of his grain under any of the Alberta wheat pool by the Canada Grain Act and obtaining full current market price for same. Any portion of a member's grain may be pooled or any portion sold outright for cash.

The new policy comes into effect immediately and members are now at liberty to select the above-mentioned options for the disposal of any grain from the 1930 crop which has not already been marketed, as well as for the new crop.

The adoption of this policy means that the Alberta pool, as an association, foregoes its right under the contract to insist that the member deliver all or any portion of his wheat on a pooling basis, at the same time enabling him to have all his grain handled through his own facilities and to pool any portion of his wheat he may see fit to pool.

Definite assurance is given that no deduction for elevator reserve, commercial reserve, or for re-payment to apply on the 1929 over-payment will be taken from the proceeds of any wheat delivered by pool members either for pooling or for immediate sale during the 1931 crop year. Satisfactory arrangements have been agreed upon with the government of Alberta for the re-payment over a period of years of the 1929 over-payment. This makes it possible for the Alberta pool to carry on this year without taking deductions for same from the 1931 crop.

The extremely low price of grain together with the urgent need for cash throughout the country makes it imperative that the grower get every possible cent for his product, hence the decision not to take deductions.

The desirability of growers delivering every possible bushel of grain to pool elevators is emphasized in view of the fact that members have invested over eight million dollars in these facilities and have built up an efficient elevator system. In order to secure full advantage of the earning capacity of this system, it becomes necessary to pass through it the largest possible volume of grain. The policy of service under which the Alberta pool elevator system is operated eliminates any possibility of excessive revenue which might be collected were the system operated for profit. It will be obvious that the greater the volume handled through pool elevators the smaller the cost per bushel.

The Coarse Grains Pool will not be operated this year but coarse grains will be handled by the pool elevator system on a commercial basis, full cash payment being made for same as during the past year.

Note Amendment Noxious Weeds Act

To the Public:

Your attention is directed to the 1931 amendment to the Noxious Weeds Act, 1929, Chapter 4, Statutes of Alberta:

"Section 4 thereof by striking out subsection (3) thereof and substituting therefor the following:

(3) Every owner or occupant in an Improvement District or a Municipal District shall destroy all noxious weeds or weed seeds on the area between the boundaries of his land and the centre line of all contiguous roads or road allowances.

I am glad to note that many of the farmers in the district are giving the matter of weed destruction the attention it deserves and I wish to thank these farmers for the interest they have shown and the splendid example they have set.

However, there are others who have inadvertently or otherwise neglected their weeds and to these I am appealing with the view of awakening to the importance of taking immediate action.

The Municipal District has ordered

Fifty Per Cent. Of Cattle Hides In Canada Last Year Were Damaged By Warble Fly Grubs

Fully half of the 1,300,000 cattle hides taken off last year in Canada showed unmistakable evidence of damage by warble fly grubs and the value of the finished hides produced from these hides was reduced by at least $700,000. The extent of the additional loss in reduced milk and beef production cannot be determined, but it is probably equal to, or greater than, the direct damage to hides and leather.

According to Dr. W. E. Graham, of the National Research Laboratories, Ottawa, who secured this information from Canadian packers and tanners in connection with the leather research programme on which he is engaged, 15 per cent of all hides taken off in 1930 had open grub holes. Damage was most serious during the first six months of the year.

The holes in this piece of leather were caused by the Larva of the Warble Fly

"Through buying hides in the fall to avoid open grub holes, tanners can counter considerable loss through increased charges on capital tied up for long periods, a loss which we cannot estimate."

The existence of grub holes in hides is, in addition to monetary losses involved, a potential source of annoyance and ill feeling due to difficulties in arriving at a proper estimate of an allowance for grubs.

"It is felt that under the present system of marketing in Canada the farmer has not come to realize fully the difference in value between 'grubby' and 'clear' hides. All Canadian hides sell for less because of the warble damage. In the British Hide Markets during 1930 a classification for warbled hides was introduced and as a result warbled hides when some tanners refuse to buy Canadian hides in April and May, 1930, the percentage of hides that were 'grubby' ran as high as 45 or 50 per cent. Dr. Graham states that more grubby hides are found on western range stock than on other 10 per cent of the percentage is grubby. One tanner gave his opinion that 80 per cent of Canadian hides showed the unsightly scars of present or previous infestations.

39 holes in a piece of leather only 13 1/2 inches long.

The warble fly grub, hatched out from eggs laid on the legs of cattle, work their way through the skin, thence to the gutlet and eventually out through the animal's back. They leave holes which gradually close but always result in a permanent scar which reduces the quality of the leather.

Hundreds of holes caused by grubs have been counted in a single hide. The area affected is limited to about 10 per cent of the hide, or 4 square feet, but is the best part for the production of leather. Samples of leather made from affected hides submitted to the Research Laboratories have the appearance of having been ridged by gun shot.

Losses from the warble fly have reached such proportions and remedial measures have been developed which are so satisfactory that the tanning industry through the National Research Council's Associate Committee on Leather has urged a concerted and determined effort at eradication. The Dominion Department of Agriculture is taking special action. Dr. Graham's estimate of losses incurred is being made available to this department and the other agencies concerned.

That the problem of eradication is by no means insuperable is indicated by the experience of Dean A. M. Shaw at the farm of the University of Saskatchewan at Saskatoon. For some years regular treatment has been applied, with the result that at present it is stated that probably not over a dozen warble fly grubs are found annually in all the cattle. Because the warbles do not far they can be controlled locally in comparatively small areas, although it would be considered impossible for the small farmer to act alone in such a matter.

Farmers are recommended to seek advice as to treatment from recognized authorities.

Dr. Graham's report concludes as follows:

"The holes in this piece of leather were caused by the Larva of the Warble Fly"

are realising from one to three cents a pound less than clear hides. Substantial evidence has been received showing that a considerable portion of the difference in value between warbled and an unwarbled animal now finds its way back to the British farmer."

It is pointed out that in Denmark an Act was passed by the Legislature in 1922 making it incumbent on every farmer to take measures to exterminate warble fly larvae appearing in his herd. As a result, the total percentage of hides with open holes for the entire year fell to 20.2 per cent in 1922 to 4.5 per cent in 1924. The very high percentage of animals infested annually in Canada should be regarded as a matter of national concern and warrants Dominion-wide efforts.

"Data on the percentage of grubby hides taken off this year will be obtained as soon as the grub season is over. Data already submitted for 1931 show 70 to 80 per cent of grubby hides on some western stock for March and April."

Farmers Must Fight Cutworms

Advised To Work Wet Patches and Leave Clean Land Alone

Cutworm losses in the areas affected this year will be heavier in 1931 since exceptionally heavy rains falls occur in the prediction of the Dominion laboratories at Lethbridge. At the same time the entomologists prophesy that areas highly affected this year will suffer greater losses next year.

The department suggests that farmers set the worms to work clearing out Canada thistles and other wet patches by working those lands between July 20 and September 1. When the cutworm eggs are laid, clean land should not be touched between those dates, the authorities state, as the worms work only in loose soils.

"CANADA SENT US THIS ORDER. BUY CANADIAN PRODUCE"

This interesting picture, just received from England, shows the latest campaign designed by the hard-working Empire Marketing Board to boost the products of the Dominion and Colonies in the British Isles. The photograph shows a number of huge packing cases on one of the station platforms in England containing a consignment of British steel for Canada. On the sides and tops of these cases are nailed bold labels bearing the words "Made in Great Britain" and the words "Canada sent us this order. Buy Canadian produce." This message is intended by the Empire Marketing Board to convey to all who may see it, whether at the workshops before departure, or in the course of the journey to the ports, that Canada is buying goods from the Motherland and that the people in the British Isles should reciprocate. The new scheme is meeting with an encouraging response.

Praise For Livestock From Saskatchewan

If Quality Maintained Will Command Highest Prices On British Market

Excellent outlook for Saskatchewan's livestock exporting industry was seen in the tribute received by W. W. Waldron, markets commissioner of the province, from the Co-Operative Wholesale Society of Great Britain.

"If Canada continues to produce and ship to England this quality, she need have no doubts as to satisfactory prices, even on low value markets they would command the highest prices available," the letter received by the commissioner states. Conjecture is being voiced by Canadian cattle and livestock men as to the cause of the excellent run produced. Whether fortune entered the shipment and found Saskatchewan ready with a "good run" of stock or whether the available cheap feed has caused a liberality in feeding is a matter of conjecture.

A more strict interpretation by Saskatchewan livestock breeders of export cattle is looked upon by Commissioner Waldron as the likely cause for the general good quality stock shipped.

The last shipment of cattle received per the S.S. Manchester Citizen was about the best ever received from Canada and has done more good in two weeks than a whole year of poster advertising or broadcasting could ever do, the quality being far superior to any Irish and equal to any Scotch," the letter relates. "The prices realized on the selected of this shipment were equal to our best selected Norfolk cattle," it continued.

"Our markets will be favorable for another six weeks until the Irish grass fed cattle arrive, although even then your selected stores (young finished) will always be in good demand at top market prices," the letter concluded.

Being Afraid Wastes Time

Hours Spent In Worring Could Be Used To Better Advantage

J. R. Lumley, editor of the Fort McMurray Express-Journal, says: "Did you ever stop to think that a lot of good time is wasted over being afraid? Hardly any movement forward has ever been made without someone else spending time in worring lest it should hurt him."

"We all know how the retail merchant has been scared almost to death of the advent of the chain store. Yet, when it has come, what a lot of merchants have simply plucked up their courage, whittled up their business methods, done a lot of good advertising and found that the chain store that had opened next door had actually helped rather than hurt them."

"The railway is afraid of the bus line, the advertising manager of the newspaper is afraid of radio. If all the time that is spent in nursing fear were devoted to studying the best methods of meeting new conditions and turning them into opportunities for co-operation, if competition were work, and by liberal use of advertising, most of the nightmares would vanish."

"I often think of the advice of the trainer, when he felt that his man was nervous about going into the ring, 'remember that the other fellow is just as scared as you are and the man who first quakes being scared will score the knockout.'"

Will Visit Churchill

Business Men Under Auspices of Canadian Chamber of Commerce To View Northern Activities

Churchill, Manitoba, once a lone trading post on Hudson Bay and now the scene of developments which will make it a great northern port, will be visited this fall by a large delegation of businessmen under the auspices of the Canadian chamber of commerce.

The chamber is completing plans for the trip which will be made just prior to its convention which will be held at Regina. On September 7 the party will leave Regina for the north, returning in five days' time after which the delegates, who will represent the 200 Canadian boards of trade and chambers of commerce from the Atlantic to the Pacific, will assemble at Regina for the annual convention.

Management of Yukon May Be Investigated

Administration Is Now Being Carried On By Canadian Forces

Administration of the Yukon territory, now carried on by the Dominion, might be the subject of an investigation, Hon. T. C. Murphy, minister of the interior, said in the House of Commons. He was asked by Mr. H. H. Macdonald, King, Liberal leader, how long the Dominion would carry on the administration and bear the whole cost of the territory.

The population of the Yukon was given as 3,500, of whom 2,500 were white people. The House passed a bill of $185,000 for the administration this year.

Transport Minerals By Air

First Shipment of Radium Ore From Great Bear Lake By Airplane

The transportation of mineral products by airplane may seem fantastic, but will actually be adopted in Northern Alberta. The fact that the mineral happens to be radium exemplifies its suitability for air transportation. Plans call for an airplane trip to Great Bear Lake during the present month returning with the first shipment of radium ore, of which it is expected that some will become an important producer.

World's Grain Exhibition

Space For National Exhibits Is Being Taken Up Very Rapidly

Space for national exhibits in the new World's Grain Exhibition and Conference building is being taken up very quickly, a large portion of the mile and one-half frontage for these exhibits having already been applied for. Dr. J. H. Grisdale, chairperson that up to date over 30 agricultural experts representing many countries will take part in the conference program of the World's Grain Show, 1932.

A Freakish Earthquake

There appears to have been something almost ludicrous about the earthquake that shook the Old Country. The only casualty was a canary which suffered a broken wing, and the quake played havoc among the figures in Madame Tussaud's famous waxworks, tumbling together and smashing the images of criminals, jockeys, tennis players and less notable personages. The re-assembling of these parts will be a delicate piece of work.

The noblest study of mankind may be man, but his favorite study is woman.

Population Of Great Britain Largest Ever Recorded, But Birth Rate Is Much Lower

Where Nightingales Are Considered A Nuisance

Inhabitants Of English Village Kept Awake By Songsters

In all the world there is no song more beautiful than that of the nightingale, but the village of Merrow in Surrey, England, is so much pestered by the songsters this year that the inhabitants are beginning to speak of their "pest of nightingales."

Indeed, visitors have heard more than one person threaten to shoot the birds—if only they could catch them.

People living in the vicinity of Merrow Common, many of them land folk whose work calls them early from bed in the morning, are those who complain most bitterly. For as many as five and six nightingales tune up simultaneously between 10 and 11 o'clock each night.

"There are two singing one against the other in an elm tree just outside my window the other night," one man said, "and the din was so loud that I thought I might get some sleep in the back bedroom. But it was no better there, because another nightingale was singing in the pear tree in my garden."—London Morning Post, England.

Trade Emporium In China

New Building To Be Opened In Shanghai This Year

One of the most novel modern buildings in China is to be opened in Shanghai this year. It is a trade emporium being erected by the Continental Bank of Shanghai, and occupies an entire block on Nanjing Road. The building will be seven stories high, and will have four elevators in different parts. There also will be accommodations for a modern hotel, restaurants, offices and shops. To enable automobiles to reach any part of the building, an "X" shaped lane will be constructed inside.

Works Both Ways

Idleness Is Bad For Some As Well As Insane People

Idleness, says the physician, is bad for the insane. It is bad, too, we think, for the sane. Hard work may for some measure reclaim the insane or at least help them to justify their existence. But enforced idleness has a cruel trick of unbinding minds that would otherwise keep the cares of this world, and before we realize it, the maimed minds of our race we should see to it that those who are still whole shall be kept whole to the end.

Cunard Week-End Cruises

Something New in the Line of Ocean Travel

A pioneer steamship company for the past 81 years, the Cunard Line came to the front this year with something new in the line of ocean travel: the week-end cruise, a voyage which gives practically everyone who can afford even a short vacation a chance to go to sea and visit a foreign port.

Already thousands have visited Nassau, down near the Tropic of Cancer, more than 900 miles south of New York, and the Islands of Bermuda, 600 miles off the coast of Savannah, and they made the round trip in four days. The better part of a day was spent ashore in sight-seeing, golfing or sea bathing.

The schedule for the summer season calls for week-end cruises to Nova Scotia, with sufficient time to visit the many historic points in the environs of Halifax, birthplace of Samuel Cunard, founder of the line which bears his name.

The Cunard's week-end cruises are made by the line's express steamers, the "Berenaria," "Aquitania," and "Mauretania," among the largest and fastest ships in the world.

These liners steam through the sea at a leisurely pace of 18 to 20 knots, so that the voyager may get the full glory of the bracing air and the health-giving sunshine.

To the question, "What is done on week-end cruises?" the answer might properly be: "Everything!" People play the regular deck games and invent new ones of their own; they bet on the day's run of the ship, as well as upon the horserace on deck; they bathe in the indoor pool or in the huge tank on deck; they dress themselves by lying prone on the hatch tops or take sun baths in deck chairs; they loaf about in bathing and various kinds of sport suits; the girls display many types of well-legged pajamas; in short, they do very much as they please, and they offend no one by doing so. Also there are lectures, photo plays, dances and night clubs.

Good food plays a large part in the pleasure of the day, and the catering superintendent of the line goes along to make sure that there is no economy practiced on the high seas, and that the dishes are added rather than cut out.

The entire ship is first class for these week-end cruises. There is no forbidding sign anywhere. Passengers are permitted to use all the public rooms and every deck from stem to stern.

These trips make a strong appeal to vacationists who go away for two or three weeks every summer. They give such people a chance to begin or close the vacation period with a sea trip and yet leave enough time for a week or two in the mountains as usual.

An interesting night is the ceremony of dropping the pilot after noon by the Ambrose Channel. This is an incident which lines the rail with observers. The pilot always leaves in a small boat, and is picked up a hundred or two hundred yards away by the yacht-like steam tender. Soon after parting the ship, the pilot fades out of sight. The next day, the pilot of this kind is catching the first light of the land to which the ship is steaming.

This always reminds the passengers of the thrill which came to Columbus when the first land loomed up in the West Indies. Returning from a cruise, a great crowd moves to the rail to note the arrival of the Sandy Hook pilot, the port doctor comes aboard and check up on every passenger on the ship, leaving no loop-hole for the stowaway.

This ceremony over, the ship proceeds to her pier, where many friends await the arrival of the tourists. Once on the pier, the baggage is quickly packed and the passengers go home to tell their friends about this new idea in ocean voyaging and to urge them to look at once for a week-end tour on the wide Atlantic.

Fruit Market in China
Fruit shippers of the Okanagan show much interest in the statement of Col. L. M. Cosgrave, Canadian Government Trade Commissioner at Shanghai, that China offers a large outlet for low grade fruit at an economical price. The subject was brought up at two meetings in Vancouver addressed by Colonel Cosgrave.

Edmonton a City of Homes
Eighteen hundred new homes were erected in Edmonton during the last year, or an average of 300 new dwellings a year. It is pointed out in a special issue of the Edmonton Journal that the original cost of the homes, not including repairs and additions, figures at about $6,000,000.

SOCIAL SERVICE IN THE EARLY CHURCH

Golden Text: "He Himself said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.' Acts 20:35."
Lesson: Acts 4:32-35; 6:1-7; 9:36-41.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 112:5-10.

Explanations and Comments
Sharing Possessions, Acts 4:32-35.—There was the greatest social welfare and purpose in the early Christian Church, as the prevalent practice of which several managers took charge, supplying from it the needs of all. In Egypt there was a Jewish sect called the Therapeutae whose members gave away all their possessions when they entered the sect, and there was among them no distinction of rich or poor. It is said of the disciples at Jerusalem at this time that "not one of them said that aught of his was his," which was the beginning of the giving up of possessions was voluntary (3:4)—each one regarded his possessions as held in trust for Palestine.

With great power the apostles testified to the resurrection of Christ, and great grace—God's favor—was upon them all. The proof of the divine grace was shown in the wonderful generosity of the Christian community, and the need for the apostles arose among the poor, those who had been "sold" by their owners and brought to the apostles' feet, and the apostles' need to distribute "all that was in the apostles' hands" as an expression which doubtless arose in the Christian Church of laying gifts at the feet of kings; it meant that the money was left in the apostles' control.

It is interesting to recall here what Paul wrote to the Roman Christians about the Christians of the orphan from him who does him violence, and who has given to him who has not, without grudging. And if there is a man among them who is poor or needy and they have not time enough of necessities, they fast two or three days that they may supply the needy with their necessary food (13:5).
Sharing Responsibilities, Acts 6:1-7.—The last verse of Chapter V tells us that the disciples ceased not to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ, now we learn that the church was multiplying the number of Christians.

The apostles called a public meeting of the church and put the matter before it. It was not right, they told the assembly, for them to neglect their work of preaching to look after the distribution of food to the needy. "To serve tables" and therefore they counselled that seven men be chosen, men of good report, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, who should be the managers of the work. As Christendom observes, "It needed great philosophy to hear the complaints of the widows." From the Greek word "diakonein," translated "serve" (serve tables, "serve widows" or word "deacon"), and it is generally thought that from this office of the seven for a specific service the office later sprang. In Phil. 1:3, Paul refers to deacons, and in 1 Tim. 3:8-13, he notes the qualifications necessary for this office.

As for those apostles who were making would be free to continue steadily in prayer and carry on their work of preaching and teaching. The secret life of prayer alone prepares and qualifies for the public life of ministry."—J. Stuart Holden.

New Senators Appointed

Patrick Burns, of Calgary, Alberta, Named a Member of Upper Chamber

Patrick Burns, of Calgary, Alberta, well-known cattle man, has been appointed to the senate. Arthur Macdonald, K.C., Pontiac, Sask., has also been named a member of the Upper Chamber. Official announcement of this effect was made recently.

The new appointee from Alberta will succeed the late Senator P. E. Leard, Edmonton, who died in April last. Saskatchewan's new senator will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. J. G. Turfitt last fall.

The party standing in the senate will now be: Conservatives, 47; Liberals, 48.

One more vacancy exists in the Upper Chamber at present due to the death, slightly more than two months ago, of Senator G. F. Foster, Montreal. When this vacancy is filled, Conservatives and Liberals will have equal representation.

Keeps Editors In Order

Unique Gavel Used By President C.W.N.A. Convention

One of the most important items in evidence at the Canadian Western Newspapers' Association Convention in Regina, Saskatchewan, is the gavel used by President W. Macbeth to keep the editors in order. It is made from the wood of old Fort Maude, vintage about 1890 A.D., and is reminiscent of General Isaac Brock and Tecumseh, the famous Indian chief.

This gavel was presented to the association in 1930 by the Lake Erie and St. Clair Pulpiters' Association. At that time Hugh Savage, of Duncan, B.C., was president of the association, so the gavel was handed with the words, "From one savage to another."

The gavel is suitably decorated with a silver plate setting forth its antiquity and usage.

The amending bill also permits the auditor of a company to be a director, when such company's business and affairs are not offered for public subscription.

Another Notable Flight

Captain Hawke Makes Remarkable Time In Eastern Canada Hop

Quebec, Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa have been drawn closer together by a series of sensational flying performances of Captain Frank M. Hawke, famous United States speed pilot.

Montreal is no more than 32 minutes from Ottawa, 48 minutes from Quebec, and 108 minutes from Toronto, while the capital and Toronto are only 70 minutes apart. These were the times taken by Hawke and his monoplane in a flight from Quebec to Montreal, then on to Toronto, and back to Montreal via Ottawa. Several of these times were hailed as new records.

Hawke flew from Quebec to Montreal in 48 minutes, 48 seconds. Ottawa as guest of Hon. Hanford took luncheon in Toronto, tea in and back in Montreal to be. Macdougall, United States minister, guest of the Montreal Light Aeroplane Club at dinner.

Altogether Captain Hawke was in the air four hours, 18 minutes and during that time covered an air distance of approximately 800 miles, averaging 174.3 miles an hour. The achievement rivals in some measure the notable recent flight of Captain Douglas, which took him from Berlin and back to Paris in a single day; also the flight that took him from London to Rome and back in a single day.

Golfers' definition of a caddy—one of those little things that count.

Back of the cylinder on the Mc-Drig combine the separator widens to 42 inches. This great width is in line with the best threshing machine practice as all threshers have a spreading space of 12 to 23 greater width than the cylinder. The reason is obvious. The thinner the straw is spread out in passing over the straw rack, the more rapid and thorough will be the separation of the grain. The beater spreads the straw the full width of the separator which is made in four sections and is operated by two four-way crankshafts, one at each end of the rack. As no two sections are in the same position at the same time their operation causes a continuous shaking and tossing of the straw which gives a more thorough separation than any other type of straw rack. Attached to the forward and delivers it upon the forward end of the shoe sieve so that it will pass over the shoe and receive a thorough cleaning. Rods are inserted lengthwise in the sections from a screen to separate the grain from the straw. These rods are removable to vary the size of the openings for threshing different crops.
